Overview

A provider of global design, engineering and construction solutions employs 2,500 people in Calgary, Alberta, Canada. This organization implemented an HR software vendor for HR management and quickly found extensive manual efforts extracting data from multiple systems. TAP Innovations' amazing integration expertise and talent enables this customer to automate data extraction in a standard way and location. This standardized information can be used by other systems, departments and functions for a global view of employee records.

Business Challenge/Problem

This organization lacks a single source of truth for employee data.
